GLOMEX WELCOMES NEW RV DISTRIBUTOR

Growing the scope of its North American presence, Glomex Marine Antennas USA welcomes MITO Corporation as its newest RV distributor. It will market the Italian manufacturer's integrated 4G Internet and cellular devices, TV antennas, peer-to-peer wireless and remote monitoring systems, and related accessories. Glomex makes its North American RV debut at RVX, 12-14 March, Salt Lake City, Utah, USA, booth 4654.

A stronghold of RV connectivity in Europe, Glomex launched its marine division in 2018 and quickly gained a significant market share in the highly competitive segment. Like its award-winning, plug-and-play boat products, its RV offerings are premium quality, value priced and backed by a lifetime warranty.

"MITO has a reputation in the RV industry for supplying OEMs and aftermarket dealers with superior and proven technology," said Chris Catoe, Glomex VP of sales and marketing. "We have the utmost confidence in their ability to make the Glomex brand synonymous with innovation and connectivity in the RV industry, and we look forward to their helping us introduce several new and exciting products this year."

Founded in 1974, ISO-certified MITO Corporation is an electronics technology supplier in the RV, marine, school and transit bus, specialty and emergency vehicle, automotive and ATV markets. Known for its highly
