GLOMEX SIGNS WATERS & DAVID AS SALES REP GROUP

Glomex Marine Antennas USA, the leading global manufacturer of commercial and recreational marine antennas, has signed Waters & David Company as its newest US sales rep group. Raffaele Fabbri, Glomex general manager, made the announcement.

For nearly 40 years, Waters & David has represented its factories throughout the Central South and Gulf Coast United States. A marine specialist, it also works in the industrial, safety, utility, and oil and gas markets—all areas that rely on high-performance communication and connectivity equipment. Its website is www.watersanddavid.com.

"We're especially pleased that Waters & David are representing Glomex," said Fabbri. "They have longstanding relationships with OEMs and distributors in their region and a deep understanding of the technical aspect of our products."

Glomex manufactures value-driven antennas and total marine connectivity products of unprecedented quality, all backed by a limited lifetime warranty. Since its North American introduction in 2017, the Italian company has achieved great success and media acclaim, including three Boating Industry Top Product awards.
