SEA-FIRE WELCOMES TWO SERVICE DEALERS

Increasing the international availability of its state-of-the-art products, Sea-Fire has signed two new service distributors. KSS Fire Suppression and My Marine Ltd. will join the company's global network of fire detection and suppression providers.

KSS Fire Suppression is an Ireland-based, full-service fire protection company, including maritime, and residential and commercial property. It offers full design, installation and service of Sea-Fire's complete range of products for the recreational and commercial marine markets. Its website is www.kssfiresuppression.ie.

My Marine Ltd. has offices in Malaga, Spain and Ringwood, UK. The company provides a complete array of marine services to boat owners, brokers and charter companies. It offers installation and maintenance of Sea-Fire's engineered and pre-engineered systems. The company's website is www.mymarineservices.co.uk.

For over 45 years, Sea-Fire has been committed to protecting people and property at sea. It designs and manufactures a wide range of innovative marine fire suppression systems for commercial and recreational vessels.
