HUTCHINGS NAMED TRUE HARBOR'S NEW CANADIAN DISTRIBUTOR

As interest in True Harbor's innovative Deck Panels spreads across North America, they have brought on Hutchings Marine Products to cover distribution in Canada. True Harbor president Dick Cantley made the announcement.

The oldest marine distributor in Ontario, Hutchings Marine has a reputation for carrying an extensive range of high-quality marine parts and accessories. Their 750-page catalog consists of over 6,000 items.

"In Canada, a lot of people pull their docks in the winter," said Chris Kohler, Hutchings Marine's sales manager. "True Harbor's Deck Panels simplify making and taking apart docks. They come in easy-to-work-with 3' x 4', 4' x 4' and 5' x 4' sizes rather than traditional 6" x 4' boards. Plus, they last longer."

True Harbor's unique, engineered-polymer Deck Panels create beautiful shorescapes. A balanced, 4-way pattern ensures T- and L-shaped dock assemblies appear continuous.

Maintenance-free and environmentally-friendly, the fully UV-protected panels allow light, water, wind and debris to pass through. Incredibly durable, they also save on labor, time and overall cost, requiring few fasteners and no metal joining strips.
